

The story of the first Hawaiians is told through the amazing art of declared Hawaii Living Legend, Herb Kawainui Kane. Following a crushing defeat in battle, an island people are forced into exile by their victors. In a dream, the chief envisions hope in the form of a guiding bird that will lead them across the unknown sea. Canoes are carved, provisions collected, farewells are said, and so begins the voyage to find a new home. But life on the sea is not easy. Fish must be caught, food collected, and traditions observed. Through windless doldrums and horrific storms they persevere to find their new home, Hawaii.
